

This evening at 6pm (October 13, 2004) I received a telephone call from Vision X a telemarketing firm. I informed the caller that i do not accept telemarketing calls and to not call my home again. In addition, I informed the caller that she was calling during our dinner hour. Less that a minute later the same caller called again, this time hanging up on me when I answered the phone. Again, within 2 minutes, I received yet another call from Vision X. Three telephone calls within 3 minutes, after being told not to call my home again. I would like to pursue a complaint and would appreciate an update on any proceedings. Thank You
